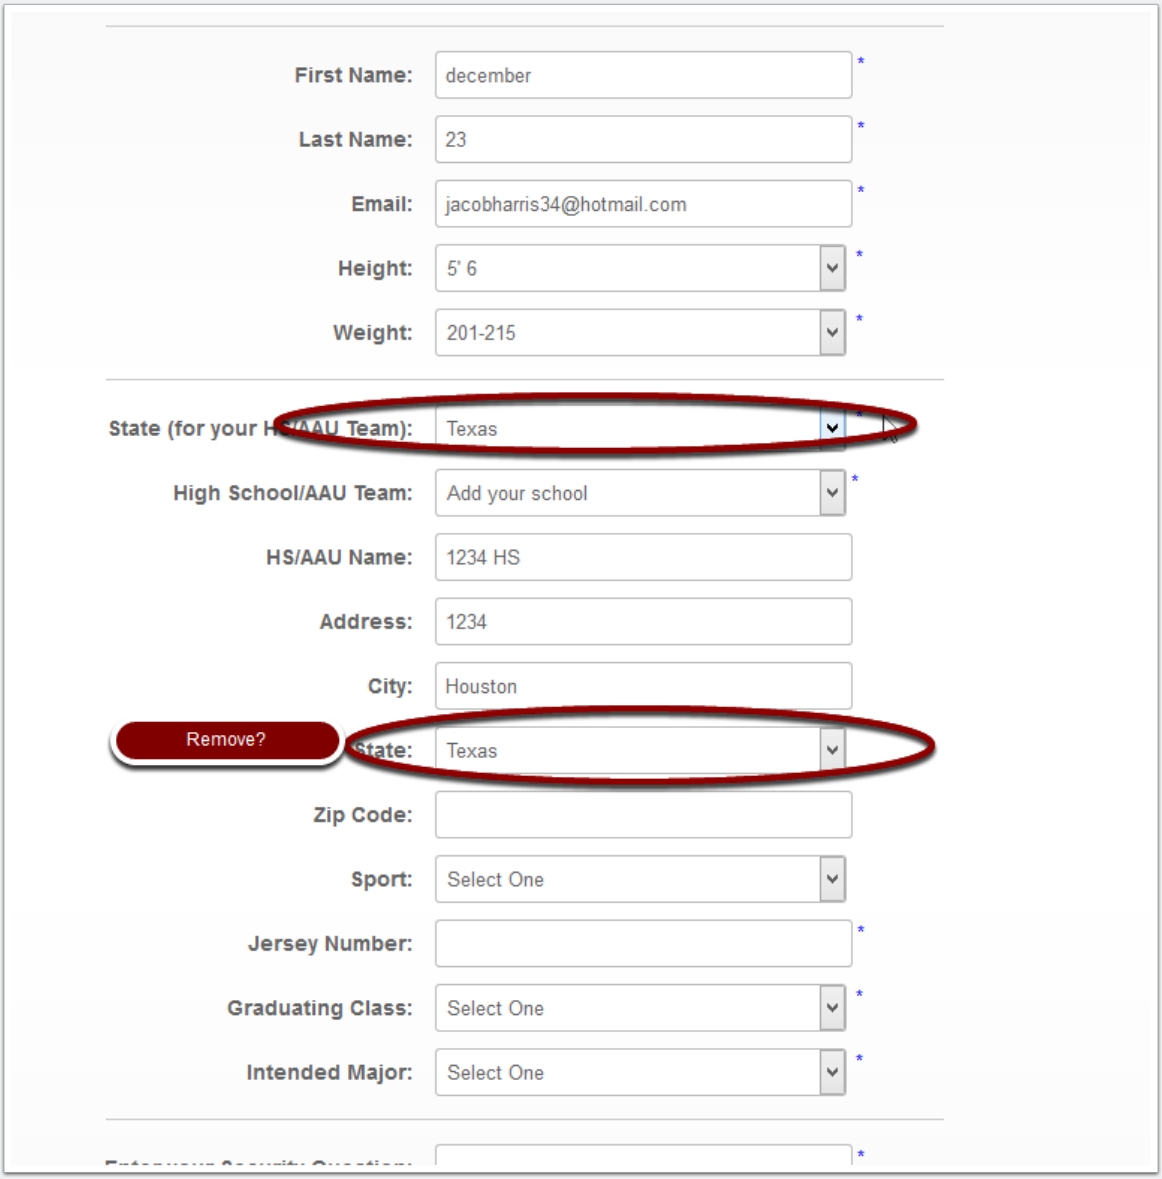
Comprehensive Tasks and Bugs

I printed out everything I have sent in PDFs along with three emails that we've exchanged about changes. This document should include everything that we've talked about, including today's conversation about the completed tasks...

Please let me know when the Athlete Approval issues mentioned below are resolved and I will restart the testing. I am trying to go through all of the tasks and create a final list so that we know everything is addressed and that we're not forgetting anything.

New: State Selection Duplicated

We probably don't need this a second time. It may cause confusion and database errors if they select a different state for some reason.



Bug: Add School Not Working

When I applied to join the site as athlete "december23athlete" I input "1234" as the name of the high school. This school did not make into the database, but the athlete was still able to complete the registration. I think this may have been because I entered the captcha incorrectly the first time. Regardless, the athlete should not have been able to register without inputting/selecting the high school/aau team or if it was input, it should have been added to the database.

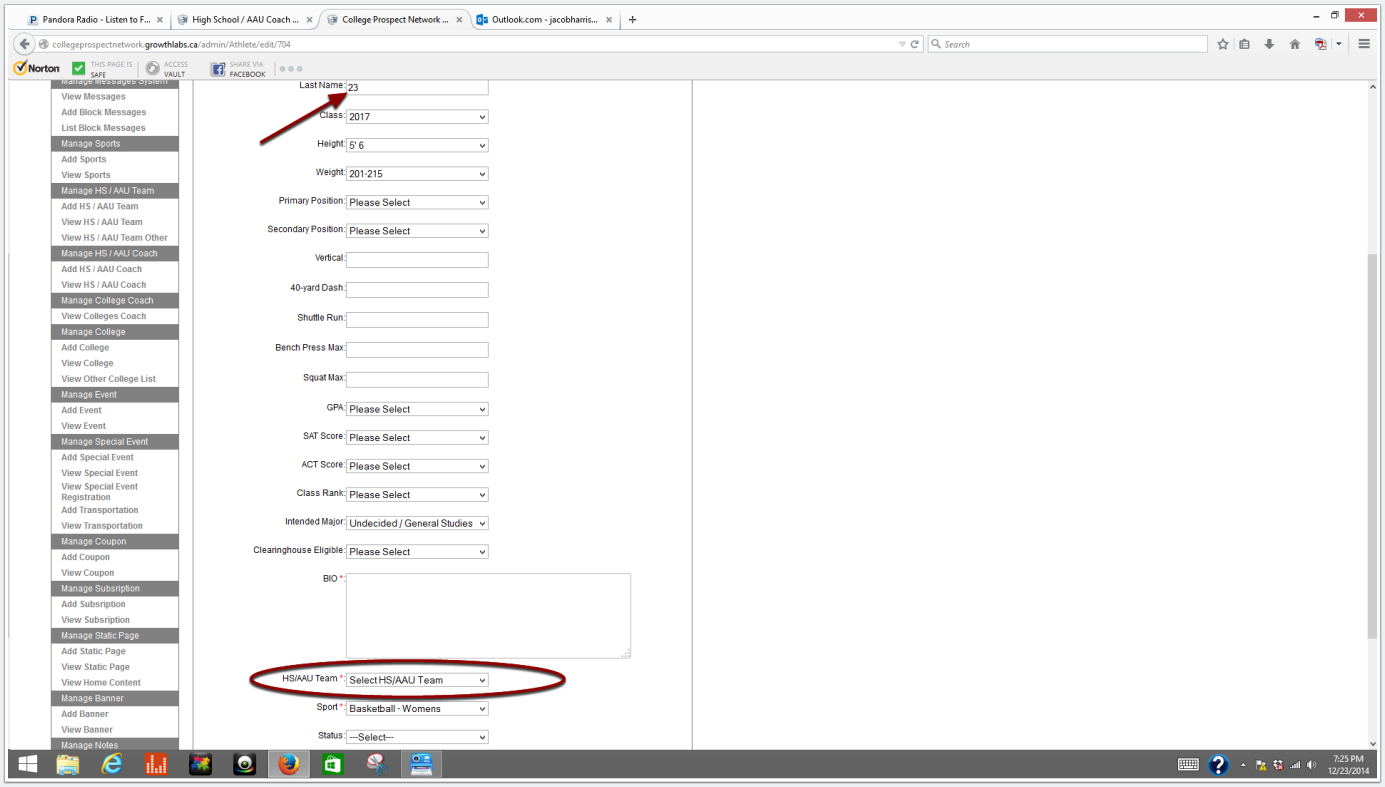
Bug: This is just an image to add clarification to the previous bug.

In the database the athlete is not assigend to a school/team.



Bug: School Selection not Available

This may provide some additional infomration about the above bug. As I mentioned on that one I entered the captcha incorrectly and noticed that the athlete was approved without a school and/or the school was not entered successfully into the database. This time attempted to register as a coach but I used an email that was already in the database, so I got an error. This time I looked more closely and noticed that the school is no longer available for selection.

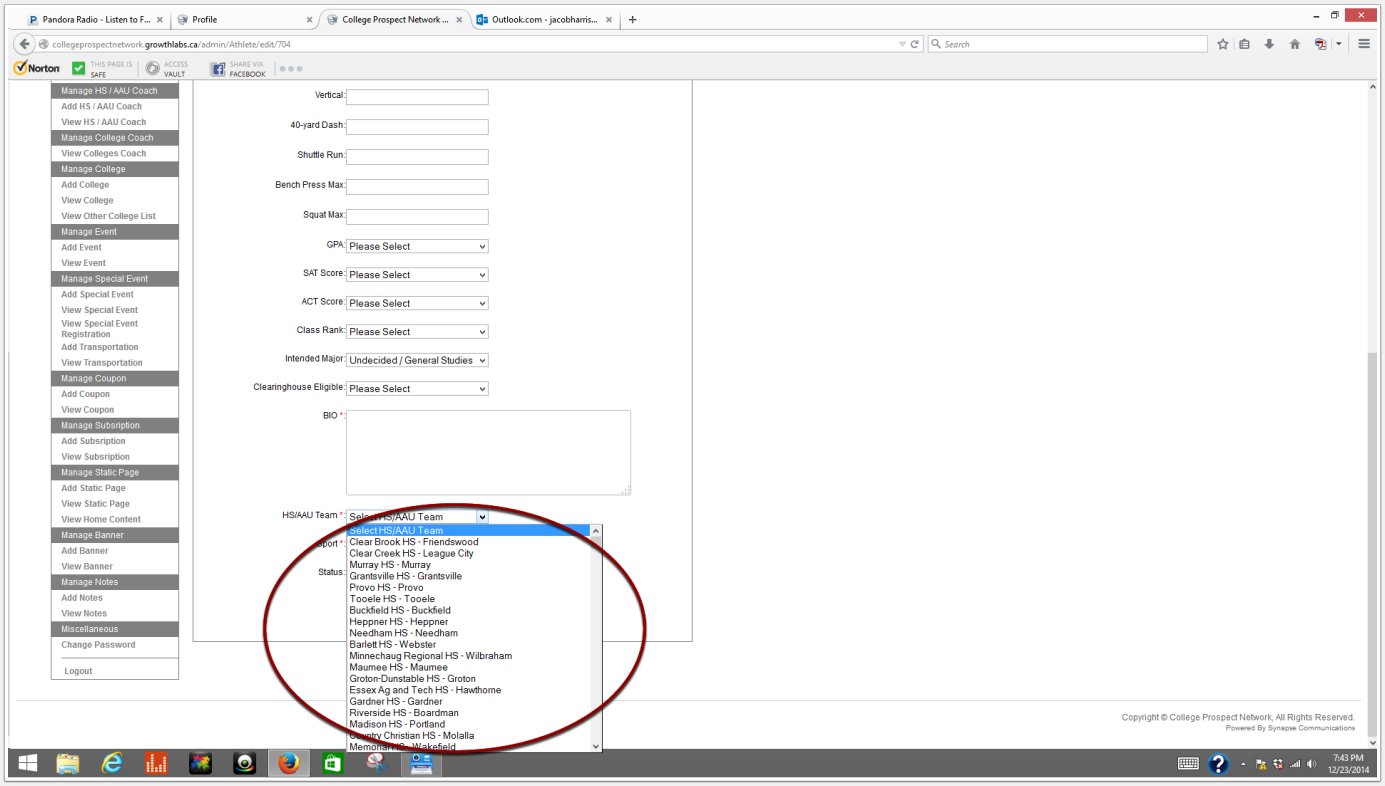
Bug: Unable to Assign School/Team to Player

I am still trying to move forward with the testing of this player so that I can verify the Athlete Approval process, but I can't change the school/team for this player "december23athlete". This is critical because players move schools and change AAU teams often, so we need to be able to update the database to reflect that. On a related note, where is the list below coming from? There does not appear to be any sort of rhyme or reason to how these schools appear in the menu.



Bug: Grammar on HS Coach Approval Email

The email is working to alert the coach to log-in and approve their athlete, but there are some minor things in here that don't look very professional:

Intro - Should be a comma instead of a period. Also, there should be no space between the last name and comma.

Line 1 - The word "You" should be flush with the left margin and the semi-colon should be removed. The "C" in CollegeProspectNetwork.com should be capitalized to match the rest of the URL text.

Line 2 - There should be an apostrophe between the last name and the "s" and it should be one word without a space.

Line 4 - "you" in this line should be replace with "he/she".

Line 6 - It looks like there are two space between the first and last names in this line. It should only be one line.

Log-in Info - I like that the password and user type are indented but please remove the semi-colons here as well.

Sign off - The comma should be directly after the last name without a space between them.

to me

Hi Coach December 23 ,

You are receiving this email because Dec 23 has applied to join www.CollegeProspectNetwork.com.

Our website is dedicated to helping athletes get recruited by colleges and it is 100 percent free for you and your athletes. Please take a couple of minutes to login and review Dec 23 's application to confirm that he/she is a legitimate prospect in their sport.

We also ask that you project the top level of competition at which you can contribute and look over the information he/she has entered to confirm accuracy. It is a simple process and will only take a couple of minutes.

If Dec 23 lacks the talent necessary or is not one of your athletes, please deny the application. Dec 23 will be notified that the application has been denied but there will be no mention that you have had any part in the process.

Please do not reply to this email. If you have any questions or concerns, please use the Contact Us page on the website or email us at contact@collegeprospectnetwork.com.

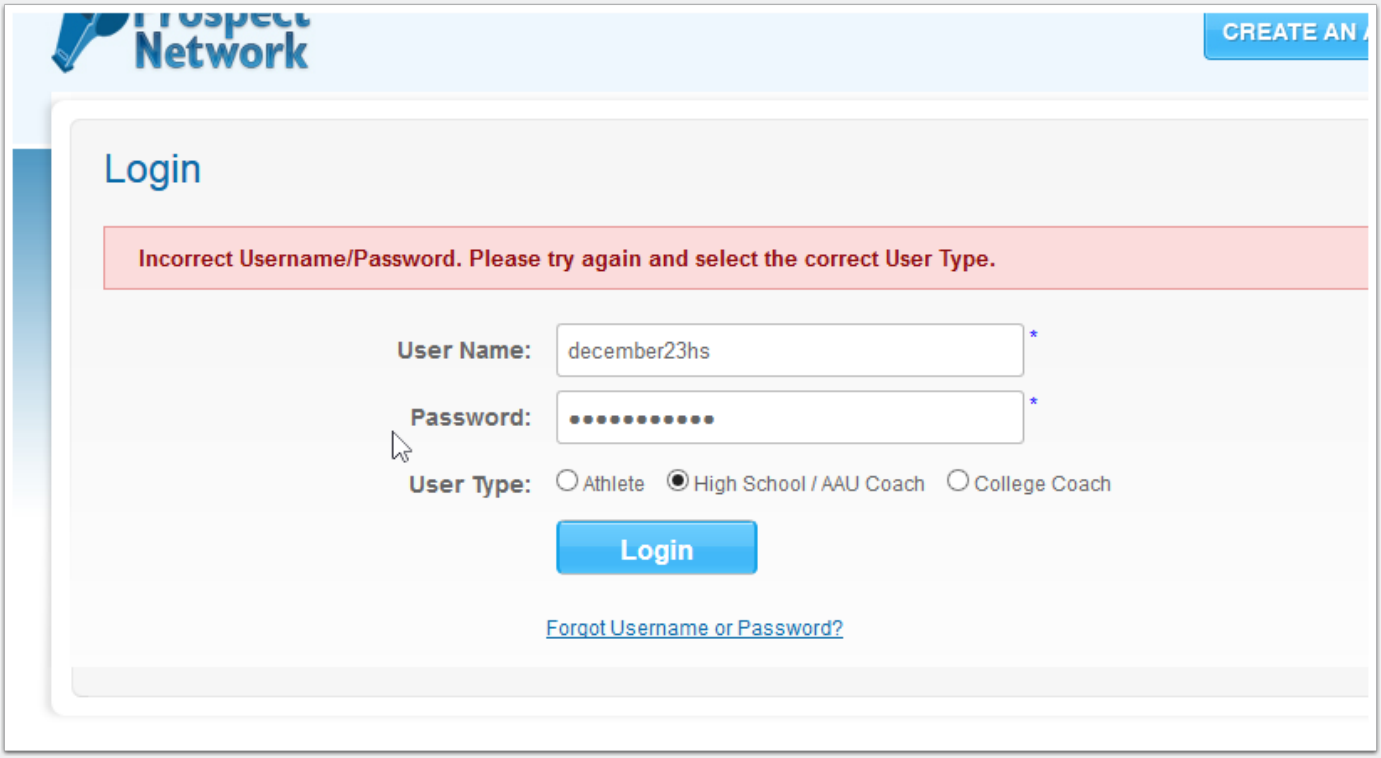
Bug: Can't Log-in

Following the email above, I attempted to sign in with the given log-in info (which was the correct info for what I enered when I registered) but I can't get in. I also noticed that this coach had a status of "de-active" in the admin panel. This should not be the case for HS/AAU coaches since they don't have to apply to join the site. But I changed it to "Active" in the admin panel and the site still won't let me sign in.

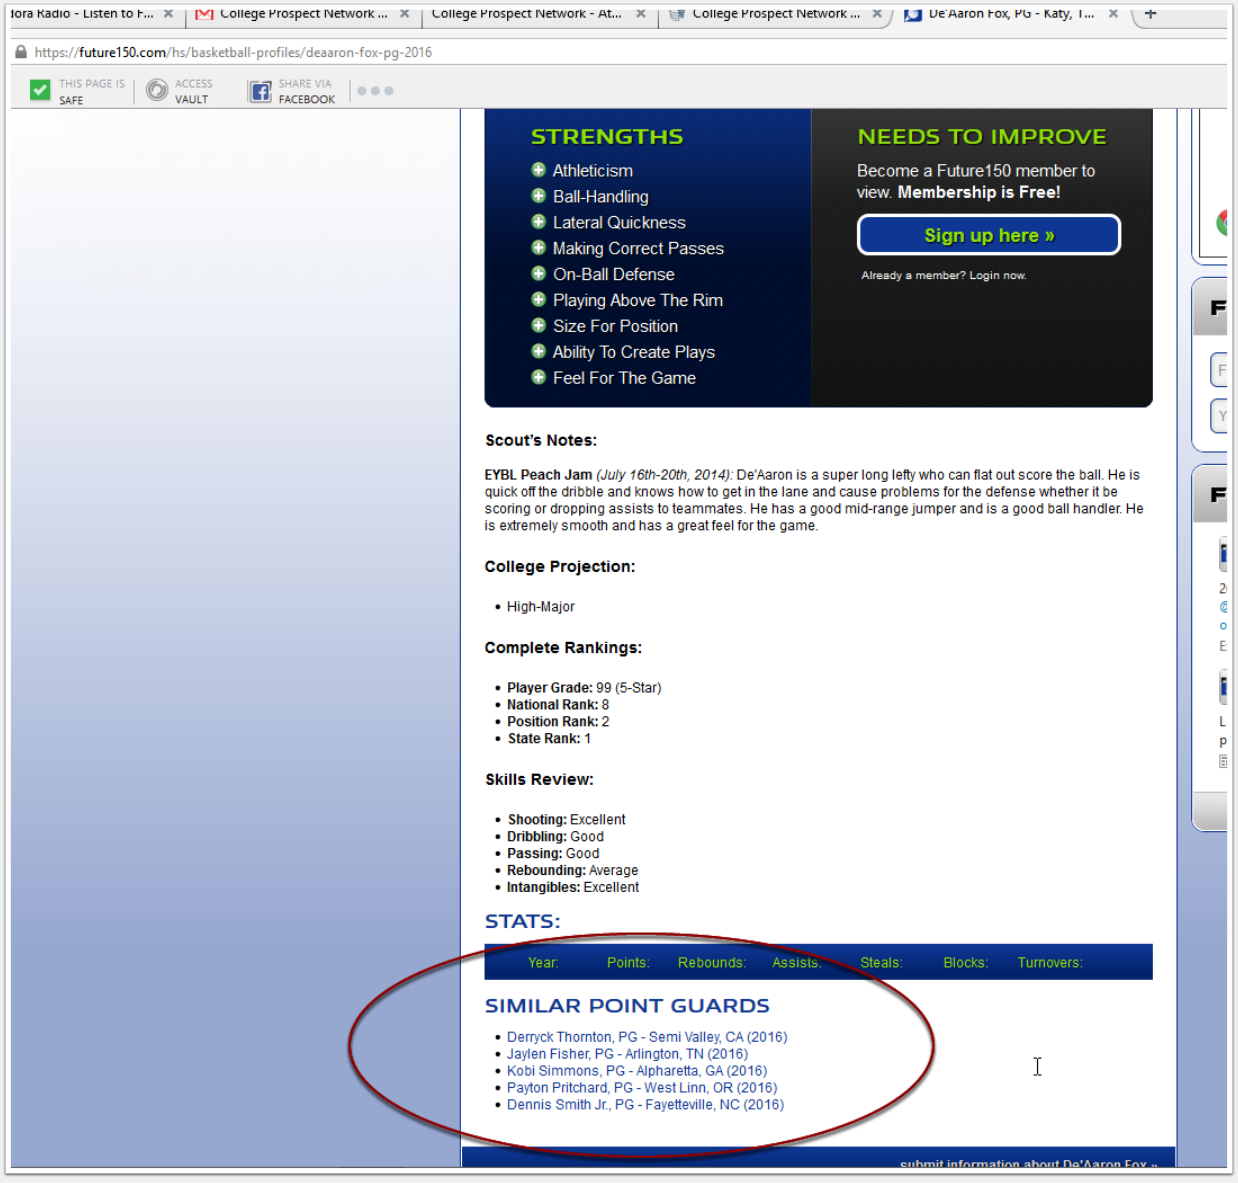


Today: Stats Query

I am having trouble finding something that matches what I have in mind, but the old version of the site worked pretty well. Basically all of the stats that we have as fields for the players and/or coaches to input after a game/event is completed - ie. points, rebounds, steals for basketball and passing yards, tackles, intyerceptions, etc. for football - should be searchable. In order for them to be searchable, everything has to be calculated. Then the College Coach user can search by minimum points per game, rebounds per game, and all other potential categories. It would be similar to the advanced search on AdventureLink that you mentioned.

Today: You May Also Like

You were spot on with the e-commerce comparison. And here is another example...



Today: Multiple Coaches

I can't really think of a possible screen shot that would apply here, but basically the player can play for two or three completely different teams. All of the coaches who match those teams and sports should be tied to the athlete without the athlete having to create a new profile for each. For example, last year Leon Gilmore attended Manvel HS, played local tournaments with Houston Clippers, and played national tournaments with Houston Hoops. If he was on our site that would mean Coach Greg Devers (Manvel), Coach Jason Pillow (Clippers), Coach David Bosley (Clippers) and Coach Charlie Hurd (Hoops) would all be his coaches at the same time. However, only one of them would have needed to approve him for the site. So say Coach Pillow signs up for the Houston Clippers and approves Leon. Then a few weeks later Coach Devers joins and the system sees that he matches Leon's sport (Basketball - Men's) and high school (Manvel) then he should be given the option to add himself to Leon's profile.

These are the things that I have checked off and am considering resolved/completed:

1. From 10/15 report - Remove the LLC name.

2. From 10/15 report - Admin panel access.
